

JACKSON HARRIS

Currently I am a junior at the University of Nevada Reno studying finance and marketing. After graduation I hope to move back home to San Diego and go into the asset management industry.

Originally, I am born and raised in San Diego, which is a long ways from Reno. I chose to come to UNR mainly because the weather and family. I love the winter and I am very passionate about snow-sports. Because of this, I've worked at Northstar the past few years in order to get a free pass. On top of this, I have a very large portion of my family here in Reno and spent many winters/summers in reno when I was younger. I am a big outdoors person and find peace in the wilderness. I love hiking, fishing, and generally anything that gives me the opportunity to connect with the outdoors.

I would consider myself to be semi-proficient in a technical sense. I have used wordpress, adobe creative cloud, and lots of generative AI in the past. I love photography and have mostly used photoshop and lightroom to edit and touch up images. Generative AI I use frequently for research connected to school and for projects/ideas around the house.
